

- From the Directors -

Well, the summer is coming to a close. While the slowdown in events was a welcome break, it did allow for a lot of extra riding and, for us, a little camping and relaxation.

But, lest we forget, as long as we're riding we need to stay sharp with our skills and especially our attention to all that's going on around us. School is back in session, it seems like people are texting and talking more than ever while driving. For example, ok, I'm driving through a school zone the other morning, dutifully running at 20 mph when this lady blows by me at who knows how fast and, yes, talking on her cell phone. I'm pretty sure that if she doesn't see the big yellow flashing lights, she's not going to notice that motorcycle turning in front of her. Needless to say, don't let your guard down. There's so much riding yet to be done and we want to keep it fun by keeping it safe.

Enjoy your remaining rides and send us some of your pictures when you come across some of that colorful fall foliage.

See you in November if not before

Attention to Details...

Going down the road you should look 2, 4, and 12 seconds down the road. Look at intersection, road surface, pedestrians, traffic lights, small children, vehicles, etc... So what more details should you look for. Let's take a closer look at some of the vehicles are around you. Are they safe as far as you know? What about the load that they are carrying? Does the trailer have safety chains that are being used correctly? Can they see you? Are you sure? Let's take a closer look at some of these items.

I was driving down the road last week in the rain, and a vehicle was coming into my lane. As I looked closer at the vehicle, I noticed that the right side mirror was missing. The housing was there, but no mirror. They could not see me at all...but they are coming into my lane regardless. Attention to detail. Again, riding down the road and I noticed a vehicle with a lot of trash, piled high in the bed of the truck. Nothing wrong with that, but all of that trash was tied down with frayed bungee cords and strings. YES...string. That's just wrong...in my opinion it is not secure. What if the load broke free of the bungee cords...an accident waiting to happen. Once again...vehicles with those small donuts for spare tires going down the road. They are only intended for 50 miles or so. Not for extended miles. That's not safe. It is only used for temporary use, yet some people use it incorrectly.

Now as we drive down the road we must pay attention to the small details that could possibly harm us. Look for items like missing mirrors, wrong size tires that has been on for longer than 50 miles, trucks not using the proper tied down (in your best judgment). These are just a few examples of hazards that could cause danger to us as we ride down the road. Be careful out there and pay attention to the small details.

The CPR Class will be held on 10 January & 14 February 2015. Exact location to be determined later. Co- Rider course or other classes can be done after the CPR class.

Also CPR class will be held in Denver at Faye Meyers Motorcycle on 25 October.

HELLO! 😊

I just wanted to take a few minutes to say THANK YOU to the kind and caring people from Chapter A, E and I. I want to especially thank Teresa Randolph (A), Judy Richards and Mary Wells (E) for the beautiful flowers and gifts and for taking the long trip to visit me while I was in the hospital. I truly enjoyed our visits, even though I may not have remembered it all. I received many “get well” cards from those Chapters up north. It does the heart good to know that you are being thought of and the wishes just help you heal. You are special peeps! I also want to thank Dick and Didi Reisler for the visits, flowers and the wonderful meal. I love Chris dearly but his cooking skills are, let’s say, limited??.... It was all wonderful!

Thanks to Cathy Luce for the calls to check up on me and report to Don who could then report to I.

We are now in the day of “social media” which we all know gets the message out to many people in such a quick time frame. Chris told me he used my cell phone to post my progress during all of this... Thanks Chris and thanks for all the kind responses.

I am doing just great. No walker, I have been using our treadmill a lot and really have no pain, unless I do something stupid. I have not felt that for years. I still am not allowed to do the “BLTs” Bend, Lift, and Twists but that will take a while. I will have to wear this back brace for 6 months but if it helps, I will do it.

So in conclusion, I just wanted to say thanks to those caring people who took a few moments out of their day to think of me during this hurdle in my life.

Hugs,
Casey
